COL. GREEN TO "CONFESS" TO FEDERAL JURY

Prohibition Administrator Admits Liquor Charges and Will Tell Story to Federal Jury

By A. HAROLD NOON
(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Col. Ned M. Green, prohibition administrator for Northern California and Nevada, who, according to his own statement, was one of three men under consideration to succeed Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews as chief of the nation's dry forces, was suspended today following his frank admission that he had staged drinking parties in his hotel room with liquor seized in Federal raids.

The admission by Col. Green, that the government's charges against him were substantially correct, came as a sensation in view of Green's numerous denials and charges of "political frame-up" made since it was announced three days ago that the Federal Grand Jury would investigate Green's alleged misconduct when the inquisitorial body convenes on Monday next.

"Sure, I have liquor in my room," said Green, displaying the contents of two dresser drawers to newspapermen. "It's good stuff, too. Would you like a drink?"

Government charges against Col. Green which he frankly admitted, were:

That he always kept a large supply of government liquor in his room.

That he served it to his friends. That he had taken assorted liquors seized in prohibition raids from his office to his room at the Hotel Whitcomb where it was freely dispensed by Green to his friends.

Government officials pointed out that there is no suspicion that Col. Green accepted money from anyone.

Col. Green extended an invitation to anyone interested and to the members of the Federal Grand Jury to examine the liquor in his room "and if they wish they can have a drink of it, too," added the Colonel.

"I am not much of a drinking man myself," said Col. Green, "I probably haven't taken over 10 drinks during the 10 months I've had the job of prohibition administrator, but I always keep something on hand for old army friends and other friends when they visit me. Hospitality demands it."

Col. Green, however, denied that all of the liquor consumed at his parties, came from the prohibition office.

"Sometimes during a raid," the boys (prohibition agents) pick up a bottle of rare stuff which they leave on my desk at the office. Yes, of course, I bring it to my room."

Frequently, according to Green, bottles of liquor, neatly wrapped, are left in his hotel room while he is out.

"Some one with a pass key," said the Colonel, "enters my room during the day and leaves a bottle (Continued on Page 8)

Wilson Makes Campaign Of Entire County

AUBREY WILSON

A trip through the county shows that Aubrey Wilson, candidate for governor, is making one of the most thorough canvasses of any candidate.

In every town visited, and on the county roads, the great majority of the automobiles are carrying "Wilson banners."

NEW CANNERY WILL BE OPENED NEXT MONDAY

One Hundred Richmond People to Find Employment in New Organization

The new Foster Canning plant will start operations in one week, according to a statement issued yesterday by H. K. Foster, manager. The plant was scheduled to open earlier but due to delay in shipments of machinery necessary for the new industry the opening date was postponed.

One hundred persons will be employed at the plant this year. All of the employees will be residents of Richmond. Foster stated that ten times this number of employees skilled in the canning industry live in Richmond and go elsewhere for employment. He also stated he was sorry that his plant was not many times larger as the location and available employees are ideal for the industry.

When the plant closes for the season, additions will be made which will more than double the capacity for next year when the plant will operate the entire season. Foster stated that he regretted that the plants was delayed in starting this year as it is a banner year in the industry.

In speaking of the location of the canning plant in Richmond, Foster stated that it was like the hub of a wheel with the spokes radiating outward to Sonoma, Marin, San Joaquin and Central California besides the fruit districts of Contra Costa county.

The fruit season this year is thirty days in advance of the regular season and this together with the delay caused by the failure of the machinery shipments to arrive earlier will make this a small year at the plant. Peaches, pears and tomatoes will be canned before the plant closes for the season.

Machinery especially manufactured in the east for the sealing of cans has arrived at the plant and is being installed. The work will be completed so that the plant can open August 2.

Scarborough Is Denied a Life Compensation

The state Industrial Accident Commission has denied Lee Scarborough compensation for life for injuries which he charged he sustained in the explosion of an oil drum in a fire on a barge near Cutting boulevard more than a year ago. A copy of the decision was received yesterday by City Attorney T. M. Carlson.

Scarborough contended that he received the injuries which later developed into permanent injury to his health while an employee of the fire department in performance of his regular duties. The decision received from the accident commission points out that Scarborough received compensation during the time he was receiving treatment for the injuries and up to the time he left the fire department. It holds that Scarborough's contention that he was permanently incapacitated as a result of the explosion has not been proven.

Tunnel Workers Are Injured

Bruises and lacerations were sustained by H. H. Bowers and J. Seppars tunnel workers employed by the Mokelumne water project in constructing the Lafayette tunnel, when the tunnel caved in yesterday morning. No other workers were caught in the cave-in. Both were taken to an Oakland hospital.

Warned by the rumble at the slide started, most of the workmen reached safety, only the two being caught. Officials are investigating the slide as the ground was considered dry enough and no such dangers were expected.

L. J. Younce, manager of the Mercantile Trust company, with his family are spending the week end in the Sierras.

UNITED STATES IS TO LEAD IN AIR ARMAMENT

Administration Is To Push Five Year Program Which Has Been Adopted

(By Universal Service)
By JOHN T. LAMBERT
PAUL SMITH'S N. Y., July 24.

Under the progressive policy of President Coolidge, plans are now being developed to give the United States the greatest air force for defense in all the world. Secretary of the Navy William D. Woodrow Wilson came here to talk departmental matters at length and two hours with the president this morning convinced him that the president is more deeply concerned in air development than in any other project.

The administration will go through "to the hilt" with the five-year air expansion conceived by the president and authorized by the president, it was announced.

The navy will then have in excess of 2,000 modern planes. The army will have about 1,800 up-to-date machines. The president will grant Secretary Hoover unlimited authority to encourage commercial aviation in order that the nation may have a supplement arm of air defense which it could commandeer in time of emergency. And Postmaster-General New will find the president disposed to grant substantial appropriations for development of the air mail, which, too, would be equally useful if war clouds gathered.

Secretary Wilbur also revealed that the president has determined to approve the construction of a giant new dirigible, of six million cubic feet displacement. It will be the greatest ship of the air ever constructed, three times larger than the ill-fated Shenandoah. It will use non-combustible helium, will have a cruising radius of 5,500 miles and will cost nearly $6,000,000.

This giant ship will be a symbol of the president's resolution to make the country supreme in the air. It is also intended to act as incentive for private American business to undertake a conquest of the air for transportation upon a scale of surpassing magnitude.

"The only concern of the administration now," said Secretary Wilbur, "is whether we shall make an extraordinary expenditure during the first year, or shall spread the appropriations over the five-year period in moderate amounts. My department is now under instructions to complete its survey as soon as possible."

It is estimated that the army and navy will spend as least $100,000,000 a year for airplane expansion in excess of the sums appropriated for maintenance of the air forces now on hand.

Despite the policy of the old guard navy chiefs, who have been wedded to the battleship, and the army conservatives, who will look with favor upon the infantry, president Coolidge has quietly but determinedly insisted that the most generous appropriations of the future shall be allotted to the air. It is known by the writer that one of his first acts when he became president was to order the budget bureau to determine whether the government was spending sufficient money for promotion of its air defenses.

THOMAS HAS TAKEN OVER HUDSON-ESSEX

L. J. Thomas, former Ford agent in Richmond, announces that on August 1 his company will become dealers for the Hudson-Essex in Richmond.

Sales rooms have been leased at 1511 Macdonald avenue where the general public and owners of Hudson and Essex cars will find these popular cars on display.

The Thomas Motor company will maintain service for the Hudson-Essex cars at the McKinney and Lodi garage on Fourteenth street between Macdonald and Bissell avenues. The service department of the Thomas Motor company will be located here and special attention will be given to the needs of the Hudson and Essex owners. Owners of Hudson and Essex cars are invited to avail themselves of this service.

"So many people are owners of a Hudson or an Essex and so many others look forward to owning one of these world famous automobiles that I had little hesitation in becoming dealer here for the Hudson-Essex line," stated Thomas yesterday. "From my own close experience in the automobile business I am convinced that much can be done to extend the ownership of these cars in Richmond. There is no question as to their mechanical excellence as any Hudson-Essex owner will assert."

The fact that Thomas, who is well known in automobile circles in Richmond, has decided to take the agency for the Hudson-Essex cars is a strong recommendation for these cars. Thomas' past success in the automobile business is recognized. He expects to conduct an aggressive sales policy to interest prospective buyers in this popular make of cars.

W. F. Pomeroy and James Hock, both well known in Richmond for their sales work in Hudson and Essex cars will be associated with Thomas as salesmen.

INVESTIGATE DEATH OF 2 U. OF C. GIRLS

The inquest into the death of Miss Helen Horner and Miss Amanda Lou White of Berkeley, killed in an automobile accident near Lafayette, Thursday, will not be held until the two survivors of the accident have recovered, according to an announcement made last night by Coroner Charles F. Donnelly. Constable Harry Stow, of Walnut Creek, is investigating the circumstances.

It is said that the accident was due to apprehension rather than the reality of danger and should not have happened.

Miss Eleanor Erickson and Miss Helen Carr, both of Oakland, sustained bruises and lacerations. The inquest will be delayed until they have recovered sufficiently to testify.

Verdict Against Cement Company

A verdict against the Cowell Portland Cement company for failure to carry workmen's compensation insurance and failing to get a permit to self insure was rendered by a jury in the court of Justice of the Peace Frank L. Glass yesterday.

The train which was Richmond-bound from Fresno, stopped and brought the injured men to Richmond. ### THE REAL ISSUE

Although we are hearing a great many rumblings of discontent from the Middle West the indications at present, according to the Department of Agriculture, are that the present year will be one of improvement for the farmers.

According to the department's latest report, the stage is set for strong hog prices well into next year at least. Prospects for the wheat growers are moderately good, cattle are coming back in the west and the dairy business is picking up in the east.

While it is true that price of corn is out of line with other commodities, the farmer who converts his corn into pork, is by no means badly off, as prices of hogs continue to remain satisfactory.

There is no doubt that there is dissatisfaction with conditions in the agricultural regions of certain parts of the country, although it is difficult to estimate just how much of this may be due to political agitation. But conditions in the farming industry change pretty rapidly sometimes and there is no telling just what the situation will be within a few months from now.

Two things handicapping the farmer are high taxes and high cost of labor. The cost of labor will doubtless remain high so long as the present prosperous conditions continue in our cities. And the farmers taxes are due to local and not national conditions. It is up to the farmers themselves to see that local economy brings down local taxes. A little campaigning to reduce local taxes might have more beneficial effect than all the chimerical agricultural remedies the theorist can conceive.

BETTER PROSPECTS

The Chicago Daily News calls attention to the fact that one reason the National League baseball club of that city dropped from second to fourth place recently was that a certain star player on the team was guilty of drunkenness and failure to keep in condition. The player was suspended and no longer wears a Chicago uniform. The News adds:

"If other players are guilty of similar infractions of discipline they should be dismissed at once. Drunken players win no ball games."

The latter statement is certainly true. Baseball has become an exact science and to be a winner in his chosen profession the player must keep in first class condition all the time. What right living will accomplish is abundantly shown in the case of Walter Johnson.

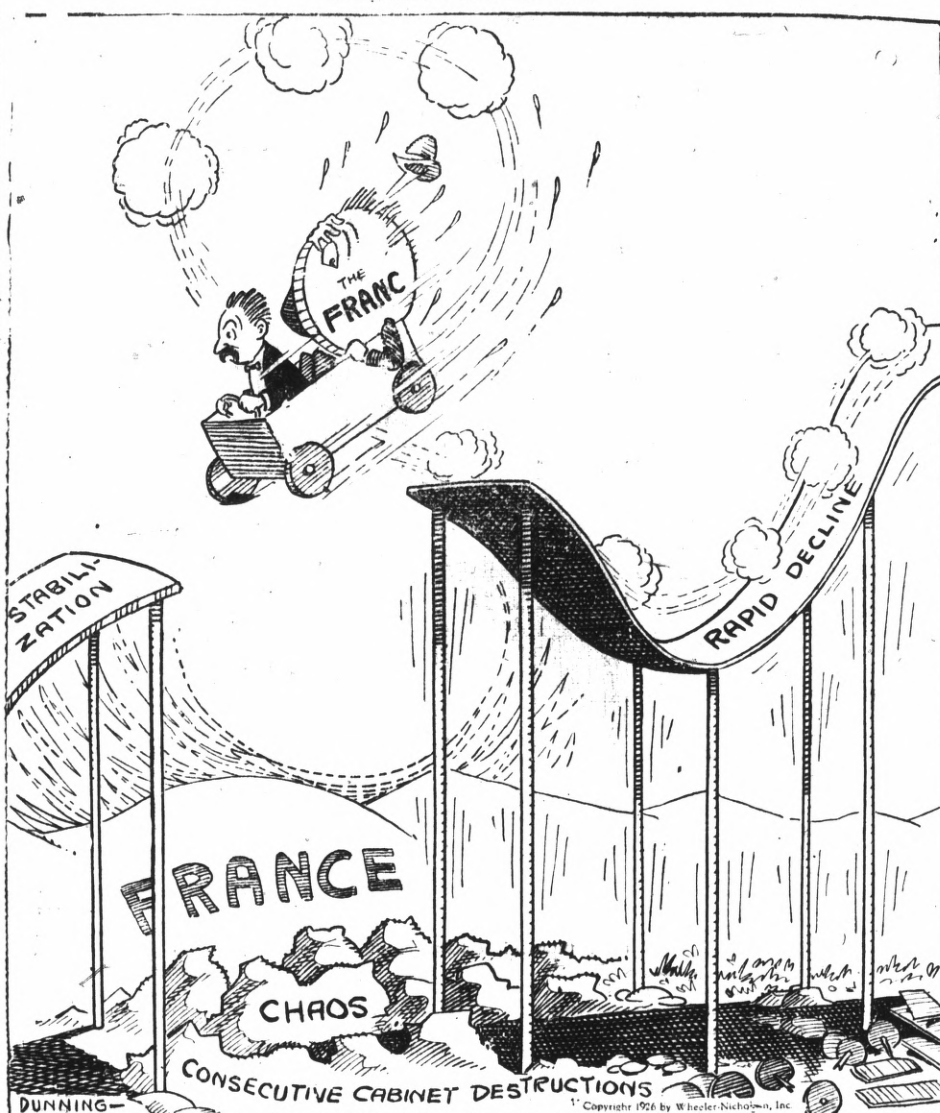

"And what is true of baseball is true, of course of all other walks of life in which there is keen competition. This is so well established that repeating it seems like uttering a truism. But there has been so much discussion of the effectiveness of prohibition of late and so much politics played with the question pro and con that we are in danger of losing sight of the main issue. The thing to be kept in mind first of all is that no man, whether he favors constitutional prohibition or whether he believes some other regulation more efficient and reliable we must keep from getting drunk.

Advocates of a thirteenth month might carve one out of early summer and call it "January."

By Alumni of the Three-Score-and-Ten Society

By WILLIAM WHITMAN, 83
(Millionaire Textile Mill Owner)

"Keep a cheerful outlook on life and work hard."

This is the secret of a long life given by William Whitman, leader in the American textile industry. Until a year ago he was in command of the vast forces of his enterprises, but he has now relaxed a little.

Every morning Mr. Whitman is at his office at 845. He lunches frugally in the office and then returns to his desk until five. He never works after five, nor does he permit his employees to labor after that hour.

The rules which Mr. Whitman regards as the basis of a candidacy for three score and ten club are:

"Hard work and a cheerful outlook on life. This will ward off old age better than anything else I know," he avows. "I have always been busy and always an optimist."

THE MOTHER OF BERNARD SHAW

George Bernard Shaw has been acclaimed the world's greatest playwright. There is no man writing for the stage today in any language who can compare with him for depth of thought, for insight into humanity, for wit, for daring conceptions, his admirers assert.

The unusual is to be expected from such a man and that is why the following confession from him is not surprising:

"I was an able-bodied and able-minded young man, in the strength of my youth, and my family, then heavily embarrassed needed my help urgently.

"That I should have chosen to be a burden to them instead was, according to all conventions of peasant lad fiction, monstrous. Well, without a blush, I embraced the monstrous. I did not throw myself into the struggle for life; I threw my mother into it. I was not a staff to my father's old age. I hung onto his coat-tails."

Shaw had left school when he was fourteen and entered a land office in Dublin. He worked until he was twenty and then suddenly left his position and went to London. There he allowed his mother to work and support him while he tried to force an opening in the literary world.

His mother bore her son's vagaries patiently. His mother's instinct and insight saw through his strange character better than anyone else could.

James Edward Britton, as he was christened, was born in San Francisco in 1879, and early evinced a readiness to fight. By the time he was twenty, he decided to commercialize his prowess with the gloves, and his real ring career started in 1902, when he claimed the world's lightweight championship. From that time, until his retirement, in 1909, Britton was conceded a first-rater.

Fighter's careers are notoriously short, and when Jimmy retired from the ring, he was reluctant to leave it. Accordingly he became a referee, and when the refereeing business is slow, you will find James Edward Britton out in the lots, selling real estate—lots of it!

Pulling hair used to be resorted to when arguments proved useless. Now it is a friendly attention to one's self or one's neighbor. Hair, gently and systematically pulled, is stimulated. Its hold on the scalp is stronger, and for those who do not bob, the tendency is to make the hair grow longer.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S AFFAIR WITH MARY OWENS

If Mary Owens could have foreseen the future would she have said "yes" when Abraham Lincoln asked her to be his wife?

Perhaps not, for Mary Owens told her awkward admirer he was "deficient in the little links which make up the chains of a woman's happiness."

Miss Owens was a determined young woman with a large fund of common sense and a worldly point of view. Besides, she was wealthy, with a good education, and pretty, and she had no lack of admirers. When young Lincoln entered the lists she regarded his unprepossessing person as the antithesis of the picture a girl creates in her mind of a future husband, and she considered the matter judiciously.

No doubt her decision was made more easy by Lincoln's honest but unlovely courtship. Lincoln as a lover is eloquently portrayed in a letter he wrote Mary Owens.

"Friend Mary: I have commenced two letters to send to you before this, both of which displeased me before I got half done and so I tore them up. The first I thought wasn't serious enough and the second was on the other extreme. I shall send this turn out as it may . . .

"I am often thinking of what we should have done to live in Springfield. I am afraid you would not be satisfied. There is a great deal of flourishing about in carriages here which it would be your doom to see without sharing in it. You would have to be poor without the means of hiding your poverty. Do you believe you could bear that patiently? Whatever woman may cast her lot with me, should anyone ever do so, it is my intention to do all in my power to make her happy and contented and there is nothing I can imagine that would make me more unhappy than to fail in the effort. I know I should be much happier with you than the way I am, provided I saw no signs of discontent in you.

About 3000 members of the Modern Woodmen of the Central and northern part of California assembled last night in the Sequoia bowl to witness the initiation of 500 candidates of the order under the direction of Jack Harkwick, district deputy. The Richmond members of the order left this city at 7:30 last night and arrived at the Oakland Auditorium where they took part in the exhibition drill staged by the Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Fruitvale, San Francisco, San Jose and Sacramento and Richmond teams.

For three hours the work of initiating the candidates took place with state officers of the order watching the magnificent ceremony.

Immediately after a big barbecue was held with S. A. Cook, of Richmond acting as chef in charge, preparing the many heaves to the king's taste. Golden coffee, bubbling in gigantic cans was served.

After the feast the members boarded the machines and started home, the local members arriving at the residence at about four o'clock this morning.

Comedy And Dancing Head Big Vaudeville Bill At California Theatre Today

The five act bill of vaudeville at the California Theatre today promises to be the best bill of the season for real entertainment. Everything that goes to make up an ideal vaudeville program is in it. There is comedy galore, some talented dancing, some clever acrobatics, nifty song and talking skits and some ventriloquist stunts that are sure to tickle the palate of fans.

Several big time acts are included in the aggregation and there is not a dull moment from the raising of the initial curtain. First off all there is Santry, Norton and company the international dance stars with their accomplished accompanists. These artists offer somewhat different dances in a delightful manner with gorgeous costumes and scenic effects. Then there are the Clayton Drew Players in a screaming burlesque entitled "Jazzing Shakespeare." This is considered by critics to be one of the greatest laughing skits on the stage today. Then Jack Lee with his wonderful ventriloquist tricks that amuse and amaze. Kemper and Delton a clean cut couple in song and dance comedy moments and opening the bill Leo Edwards.

A sparkling, rollicking comedy, laid in the society atmosphere of Palm Beach and other Florida beauty spots, glorified by the bewitching presence and humorous antics of Bebe Daniels, and depending for its thrills upon speedboat racing is what picture-goers may expect to see at the California Theatre today when "The Palm Beach Girl" is screened.

Just picture Bebe as a gawky country girl trying to learn the manners and managements of the smart social set, falling in love with a handsome millionaire, adventuring with bootleggers, running wild in a sixty-mile-an-hour speedboat, and you'll begin to realize the hilarious fun and hysterical thrills wrapped up in this picture.

The story was adapted from the yarn by Byron Morgan and the play, "Please Help Emily" by H. M. Harwood, and is packed crammed with speed, spice and suspense. "Felix Scouts Thru Scotland," a Felix the cat comedy; "Kinograms" world news events; and Carl Richard's California Orchestra will also be featured on the same program.

STUDEBAKER ANNOUNCES NEW LINE

Four custom designed sedans, incorporating the beauty and refinements of exclusive custom made cars but at a "family car" price, were announced today by the Studebaker Corporation of America through local Studebaker dealers. These cars are an addition to the present line of Studebaker models, and include a Standard Six Custom Sedan, a Big Six Custom Sedan, a Big Six Seven Passenger Custom Sedan, and the President an ultra distinctive Big Six Custom Sedan embodying the most luxurious refinements of custom coachwork.

Geo. Olson states that the outstanding features of the Studebaker custom sedans are low-swinging bodies with flowing lines; rich, durable lacquer color schemes which are carried through to complete harmony in both interior and exterior treatment; Butler finish hardware, mohair or broadcloth interiors with broad-lace trim. Disc wheels lacquered to match the body tone, and four wheel brakes are standard equipment.

The introduction of Studebaker custom sedans marks a step forward in development in American motor car manufacture. George Olson of the local Studebaker organization said, in outlining the policy behind the announcement, "By creating a meeting ground for the custom designs of America's foremost coach builders and the one-profit facilities of the Studebaker factories, it is now possible to produce a line of motor cars which are custom designed in every detail but still are within the reach of the great group of buyers of moderately priced cars. The day of exorbitant prices for fine cars is past.

"Custom coachwork on the Studebaker chassis is by no means an innovation. For years, many of America's most discriminating motorists have combined Studebaker chassis and performance with the bodies especially designed and built for them. In recognition of this growing trend Studebaker established a salon in the Rose Room of the Plaza Hotel, New York City, where custom body builders might exhibit special creations on the Studebaker chassis. The decision to unite the advantages of the custom design with the benefits of one-profit manufacture was largely a result of the marked interest shown in the Rose Room exhibit. By virtue

Mills Funeral Rites Are Held

Funeral services for the late Samuel Mills were held at the Wilson and Kratzer funeral parlors yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. W. P. Grant officiating. Interment was held at Sunset View cemetery with the Alpha Lodge of Masons conducting the services.

Mills died on Wednesday afternoon at a local hospital. He was 64 years of age and he lived in Richmond for 16 years. He leaves his widow, three children and a sister.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS TO MEET MONDAY

A social hour will follow the meeting of the Past Noble Grand at the Odd Fellows hall on Monday evening. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Ann Pearson, Mrs. D. Southmeier and Carrie Spierisch. Mrs. M. Woods will preside at the session.

Of this union, it is now possible to produce cars in which there is no compromise with custom quality, but which are of moderate cost.

No changes in either the Standard or Big Six engines have been made in the custom designed line, Olson stated. The Big Six motor which powers the Custom Brougham, the 7-passenger Custom Sedan and the President is rated in power by only seven American cars, according to the ratings of the Society of Automotive Engineers. It is the same engine which propelled Al Jenkins' Studebaker "Sheriff" on its recent record smashing dash from New York to San Francisco. And, except for refinements it is the same motor as those which have powered hundreds of Big Sixes to membership in the Studebaker "100,000 mile club."

The Standard Six motor is likewise distinguished for abundant power. It is the most powerful engine in any car of its size and weight, according to the Society of Automotive Engineers' rating. It is sufficient to say that Geo. Olson is enthusiastic concerning what he terms the greatly advanced Studebaker and predicts that sales on this new car will astonish the Automotive industry in this city.

Bebe Daniels With Million At Richmond

This story is not intended to save its reader some money. Rather "The Tale is printed in the hope that it will excite sufficient interest in the reader's mind to make him spend the price of an admission."

The following paragraph gives just a slight idea of what "Miss Brewster's Millions" the Paramount picture coming to the Richmond Theatre today is all about. Before stopping to give further details, it is only fair that we credit Clarence Badger with some fine direction; Bebe Daniels, the star, with premier histrionic powers; and beneath a barrel wreath to each of the featured players, Warner Baxter and Fern Sterling. Now for our synopsis.

A little movie extra finds herself heiress to a million dollars which can not be spent, due to a clause in the will. She is in a terrible predicament, till an uncle turns up, who seemingly shows her the way out. He promises an additional five million if she'll make it her business to spend the one she already has.

Picture the scene in which Bebe as a movie extra, rides through the streets of Hollywood, dressed in medieval costume, on the back of a mule. Think of her as the patron saint of a bunch of fake inventors. This film contains laughs and more laughs. It's as good as a laugh tonic and blues cure combined.

Other features on the same program include "One Wild Ride," and "Our Gang comedy;" and "Kinograms" world news events.

1 WHAT IS THE NAME OF THE

oldest and largest home bank in Richmond? It was established in 1907, has been a bulwark in the financial history of the city since the early days. The paid up capital is $200,000.00, to which has been added a surplus of $200,000.00, thus securing a place on the National Roll of Honor. The Roll of Honor is made up of banks which have a surplus exceeding the capital. A place on the Roll of Honor is like a man's character. It is something that money can not buy. It is tangible evidence of strength and security. Strong men financially are allied with this bank—men who have been active in promoting the commercial and industrial interests of the city and county.

2 What name in Richmond has stood for ten years representing the best in men's and youth's wearing apparel? They have clothing for the stout and short, the tall and slender, young and old. The reputation of this store has gone abroad over all this section. They are always in the lead with the latest things in men's attire. Carry the largest and most up to date stock of clothing, shoes and furnishings in the city. Specialize in Fashion Park clothes, Mallory and Stetson hats, Just Wright shoes and Interwoven socks. Their service to the people is pleasing, with full satisfaction. Anything that is not right they make right. They have everything that men wear—including the smile.

3 WHEN YOU GET READY TO adopt gasoline as your fuel energy in traveling, there is one certain line of automobiles which you should not fail to see. These cars are made at Toledo, O., wear a name that is familiar in western railroad parlance. They are sold at a moderate price, unexcelled in real serviceable value, comfort, power and speed. The latest sensation with them is the Whippet car, European type. The latest evolution in light cars. What is the name of these cars, and who are the distributors for them in this city? One of them has the silent engine, sold under a different name. They run a lively sales and service station.

4 HERE IS A WORKS THAT

makes lots of noise, and in a legitimate way. It is a plumbing and sheet metal works, which began business in Richmond 25 years ago—when the town was still in its swaddling clothes. All these years they have been making a big noise around here. They make everything that may be wanted out of tin, brass, copper, zinc and sheet iron. Everything includes roofing, spouting, cornices, skylights, patent chimneys, tanks, etc. They sell and install Glenwood gas furnaces, radiant fire heaters. Do sanitary plumbing and sheet metal work, repairing. Always ready to answer calls in any part of the city—and beyond. Give name and address of this firm.

5 THERE ARE PLENTY OF places in Richmond to buy furniture and household supplies—but none where the Almighty Dollar has a greater influence than at this big furniture store half way between Macdonald and Nevins avenues. They have two floors and a commodious balcony full of merchandise. They keep their stock turning and always have the newest things to be found in the city. They have furniture, rugs, bedding, stoves, draperies, shades, linoleums—everything that goes toward turning an empty house into a happy home. It is the store that has Buck's stoves and ranges, also Spark ranges. Give name and address.

6 WHAT IS THE NAME AND

address of the music store in Richmond which has been a popular place with the lovers of harmony for a half dozen years? They have pianos, phonographs, hand and orchestra instruments and Radio sets. In fact they have everything musical. Distributors in Richmond for Mason & Hamlin pianos, Victor and Brunswick phonographs. These half dozen years of success mean much fruits and vegetables in this city who have three stores—two on the East side and one on the west side? They are growers and shippers, sell wholesale and retail. They have been seven years in business and have built up a big trade at each one of their stores. Their three outlets give them an advantage over the smaller dealers who have but one place of business. They order in larger quantities and get the choice of everything in market. When you want real fresh fruits and vegetables—everything in market—this is the firm you should patronize. Give the name and three addresses in this city.

7 WHO ARE THE DEALERS IN

8 WHAT BANKING INSTITUTION

in this city carries the name of Richmond into every nook and corner of the United States—and then some? Its circulating notes to the amount of $100,000 are out all over the country, broadcasting the name and fame of its home city. It is a bank that has had but three years to add to its stature, but it has already become an influential factor in the financial resources of this city and county. The capital is $100,000 with a rapidly growing surplus. It has already paid several dividends. The growth of this bank has been steady, due largely to its reputation for strength, solidity and progressiveness—and the fact that its personal interest in the welfare of its depositors has made of them friends as well as clients.

9 WHAT IS THE NAME OF THE

commercial school in this city which has become one of the essential means of uplift for the young men and women of this city and county? It has done much to improve the efficiency of the young people. They teach the Gregg system of shorthand and Fundamental book-keeping. Students of this school have provided for them facilities that are unexcelled for conforming to modern routine and system. Increased efficiency is the demand of the hour. The young man, or woman, who neglects business education, does so at the risk of becoming in life a mere burden. It has already paid several dividends. The growth of this bank has been steady, due largely to its reputation for strength, solidity and progressiveness—and the fact that its personal interest in the welfare of its depositors has made of them friends as well as clients.

10 WHAT IS THE NAME AND

address of the newest drug store in Richmond? It was established two years ago at a very prominent street intersection—one where the cars turn. Being a new drug store means that everything is fresh and of full strength. There is an utter absence of old passe goods on their shelves, or in their containers, with the ever-present temptation to work them off on the public. Here will be found everything that goes toward making people healthy, comfortable, sweet and handsome. Full line of sick room and hospital supplies, and a good stock of standard remedies and sundries. The prescription service is prompt and accurate.

11 WHERE IS IT IN RICH-

SAILOR HUFFMAN BADLY BEATEN BY TIGER FLOWERS

TIGER TAKES EIGHT ROUNDS OF THE FIGHT

Bout is The Best in This State Since Boxing Was Legalized

(By Universal Service)

By MARK KELLY
ASCOT, SPEEDWAY, Los Angeles, July 24.—Tiger Flowers, middleweight champion of the world, demonstrated here this afternoon just why he is the best man in the middleweight division. In proving his claim Flowers defeated Eddie Huffman, former sailor and one of our best light heavyweights, in a slashing ten round battle.

At only one time during the bout which was at Catchweights did Huffman display the class that has put him near the top of his division. That was in the third round when one of his crushing right hands sent the colored champion to the canvas for the count of five. Flowers arose and staggered drunkenly around the ring for the balance of the round, standing up under a heavy fusillade of blows. Huffman, however, could not put his opponent away; most of his punches being wild.

A tabulation of rounds gave Flowers eight with Huffman taking one—the one in which he floored the champion. The fifth was even.

Flowers started out, smothering his rugged opponent with light jabs and hooks to the head and body. His punches carried no wallop but they served the purpose of keeping Huffman off balance.

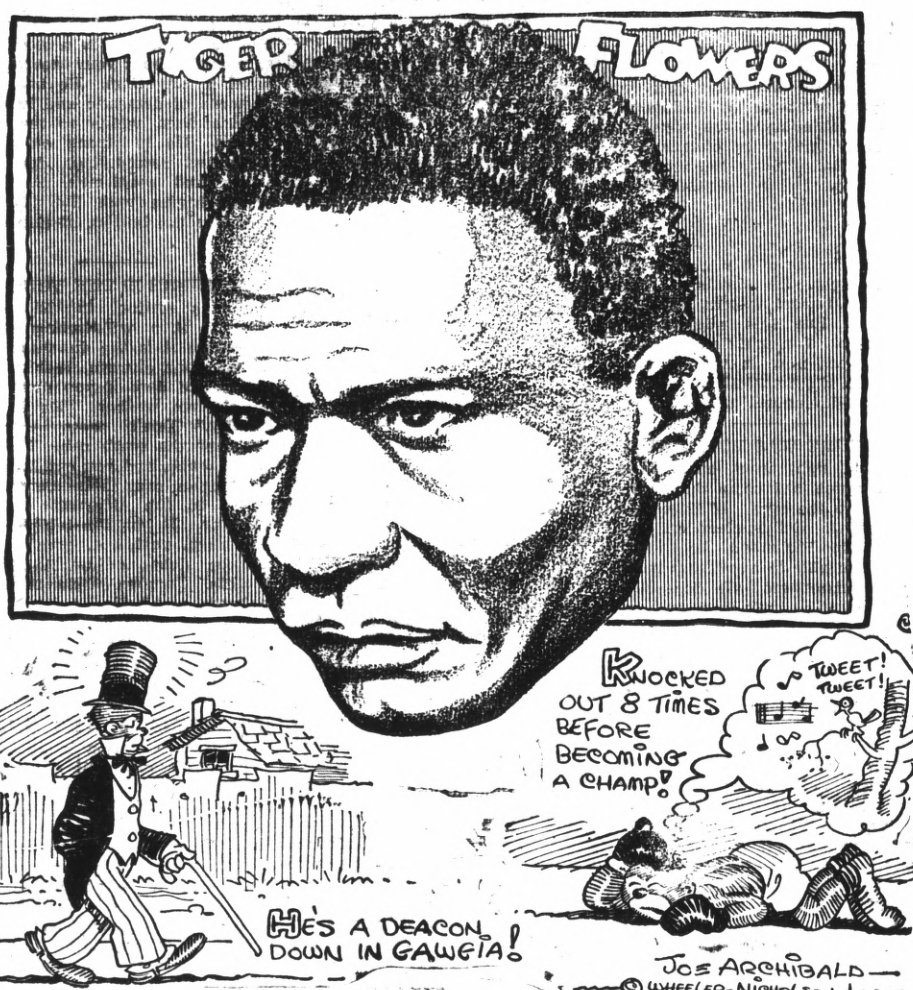

He managed to keep the ex-sailor away for two rounds but in the third Huffman unleashed his famous right mitt and bid fair to send the fans home early. While Flowers was on the floor and reeling about the ring, the fans stood on their chairs and cheered Eddie on. But the cheers did little good. Huffman's over anxiety probably cost him a knockout victory.

The Tiger showed wonderful recuperative powers and came back strong to take the fourth round. Huffman appeared to be tiring fast. His legs were weary and he seemed to be laying back, waiting for a chance to put over the one punch that would end the battle.

Huffman managed to hold Flowers even in the fifth round by virtue of several right hands to the head. On one occasion he sent home a right cross that sent the Tiger into the ropes. The ropes saved the champion from going down a second time.

After that, however, Flowers went back to his slapping, foreing, jabbing, hooking style and there was never any doubt as to what the outcome would be if the ex-sailor failed to uncork his right hand. The sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth rounds bore the same results with Flowers boring in, crowding Huffman and forcing the latter to miss most of his blows.

Eddie did rally in the early part of the tenth round and managed to clip Flowers with a few rights to the head and body but he tired badly and the champion came back to take the round, his fifth in succession.

There was not a dissenting voice in the crowd when Referee Abe Roth raised Flowers' hand. Everyone realized that the victory went where it rightfully belonged.

The men staged probably the best fight for heavy men seen in California since the return of legalized boxing.

EAGEL AND MEYERS IN RETURN GO

George Eagel will box Pete Meyers in the next ten round main event of the Richmond Athletic club, Friday night, July 30th, in Winters Pavilion.

The boys met last week at the local fight arena and Meyers won on a technical knockout in the first minute of the first round, the referee stopping the bout when Eagel was in a groggy condition against the ropes from a terrific right cross to the head. The result was one of the most sensational upsets in the bay region boxing game, and local and Oakland boxing fans will not believe that Meyers is the best man until he can repeat his win over Eagel. Eagel was an overwhelming favorite the last time he met Meyers. Charley Birch of Richmond, and Frankie Novell of Berkeley, will meet in the six round semi-wind-up. Birch has been going great guns in outside rings defeating opponents in San Jose and Fresno rings, and fighting Walter Patis at El Cerrito last Friday night. The last go was adjudged a draw, but Birch had a nice shade the best of it.

Young Mike Gibbons of Oakland will meet the hard punching Op-clone Pete in the special event. This should be a great go. They weigh 150 lbs.

Little Al Robinson of San Francisco, who beat Young Pancho Villa at the last El Cerrito show, will box Jimmy Bell of San Diego. The boys are 110 pounders.

Kid Shadow of Wats Tract, will box Young Percy in the first go of the evening.

NOW WORKS STEADILY.

Oakland, February 26, 1926.

I suffered in the past with RHEUMATIC PAINS in my right arm and in my right leg from the thigh down.

I was in such torture that for two months I had been unable to work.

I was then recommended to take the PONG WAN HERBS, and after two or three weeks of the herb treatment, I was able to take up my work again. Now that I have completed the eighth week of the treatment, I am feeling splendid.
